

DAS STUDENT ALUMNI WALL OF FAME

Nuh Syazwan bin Muhammad Zulkarnaen

A DAS student alumnus, Syazwan is an active advocate in raising awareness for dyslexia. He is currently studying Interior and Exhibition design at ITE Central.

Having joined DAS when he was in Primary 3, Syazwan became a part of the DAS Student Alumni after graduating to give back to the organisation.

Through his passion for art, Syazwan actively contributes to DAS by providing his artworks to be auctioned off at corporate company dinners. The money raised will then be donated to students with dyslexia from lower-income families, enabling them access to intervention programmes at the DAS.

One of the DAS teachers Syazwan is grateful for is Ms Sharon. She has pushed his confidence and encouraged him to get better in his studies while developing his passion for art.

Since graduating from the DAS two years ago, Syazwan has participated in many fundraising projects that have also raised awareness about dyslexia. He was involved in the Citi-YMCA Youth for Causes project alongside other DAS alumni. His various art designs were incorporated into the merchandise that was sold to the public, raising funds for DAS.

“ I feel great helping DAS through my passion for art and it shows how much I appreciate DAS too.”

DAS STUDENT ALUMNI WALL OF FAME

In September 2021, Syazwan was featured in a DAS video, 'You Should Know I Have Dyslexia', raising awareness for dyslexia in higher learning. As a young adult who has received intervention during his primary and secondary school days, Syazwan agrees that additional support is always welcomed at tertiary level as students encounter an increase in demand and level of school work.

"Hmm, all I know is that each and every one of us, dyslexic or not, will at least have a hobby / talent / skill that we like, which make us all special. I hate learning subjects but with art as my hobby... everything seems better this way."
